IPMG Holdings Expands to New Jersey Through Affiliation with Infinity Today

The Infinity Today Team

IPMG Holdings is proud to welcome Infinity Today to its growing family of mission-driven, 100% Employee-Owned organizations. This merger marks an exciting new chapter that strengthens Infinity Today's long-term future while preserving the trusted relationships, leadership, and person-centered services that families across New Jersey rely on. Infinity Today will continue operating under its current name and leadership with Executive Director Errol Seltzer continuing to lead the organization. Individuals, families, provider partners, and community stakeholders can expect the same dedicated staff, the same commitment to quality, and uninterrupted services.

“Our mission has always been to empower people to live meaningful lives. We chose IPMG Holdings because they share our values, our commitment to person-centered services, and our belief that investing in employees ultimately benefits the people we serve.”

Errol Seltzer, Executive Director of Infinity Today

“Through this partnership, Infinity Today employees will have the opportunity to become Employee-Owners through IPMG’s Employee Stock Ownership Plan (ESOP) and will benefit from expanded organizational resources, allowing local leaders to remain focused on serving Individuals and families.

Infinity Today has built an exceptional reputation in New Jersey, and we are honored to support their mission while investing in their employees and communities.”

Karen D. Brummet, Co-Founder and Chief Executive Officer of IPMG

About Infinity Today

Through person-centered services and compassionate support, Infinity Today helps Individuals and families navigate resources, achieve personal goals, and build lives of choice, independence, and inclusion.

About IPMG

IPMG is a nationally recognized, 100% Employee-Owned organization committed to strengthening community-based services through innovation, collaboration, and long-term investment in people. IPMG supports more than 16,000 Individuals receiving Home and Community-Based Services across all 92 Indiana counties through a team of more than 450 Employee-Owners dedicated to person-centered care.

About IPMG Holdings

As a mission-driven organization, IPMG Holdings partners with organizations that share its commitment to empowering Individuals, strengthening communities, and investing in people. By combining local leadership with shared resources and the Employee-Ownership model, IPMG Holdings helps organizations build on their strengths while creating opportunities for long-term growth and sustainability.

Consulting for Human Services (CFHS), led by Chief Executive Officer Stacy DiStefano, served as the strategic advisor to IPMG Holdings, helping develop a partnership grounded in shared values, organizational strength, and a long-term commitment to the communities both organizations serve.
